

Historical Analysis of Major Revolutionary War Battles

Each student will be given one battle to research and present to his or her class.

RESEARCH INSTRUCTIONS

Several days before we come to our discussion of your battle, you will be given a chance to go to the school library to use the materials provided there. Any information you need after that day, you will have to get on your own.

Find information related to the topics on the analysis sheet: i.e. location, commanders, strategies, events, casualties, etc.

Take notes by filling in the analysis sheet _____

PRESENTATION OF INFORMATION

After filling in your analysis sheet, review your information. On a piece of poster board, write out the important facts concerning your battle. Include any maps, charts, or pictures that would help your classmates have a clear understanding of the events of your battle and why it was important. What they learn about this battle is up to you.

You will be given an approximate date on which to present your research. If you are not ready to present or your presentation is incomplete when we come to your battle, it will lower your total battle analysis grade.

Your grade will be determined by the following factors:

- 1~ quantity of information
- 2~ quality of your poster
- 3~ quality of your presentation
- 4~ being ready on time for presentation

Your battle is: _____

Your day in the library is: _____

You should be ready to present your information on:
